DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's election of Species I, figures 1, 2, 3A, 4A, claims 1-7, 10-22, 24-33 in Paper No. 17 is acknowledged. Because applicant did not distinctly and specifically point out the supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election has been treated as an election without traverse (MPEP § 818.03(a)).

Claim Objections

2. Claim 2 is objected to because of the following informalities: "lockout function" should be "lockout function device". Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

- 3. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:
 The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.
- 4. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

As to claim 1, recitation "an attachment to which it is connected" is unclear, since it is not known what element that "which" is referred to. Furthermore, it is not known whether or not "indication signal" is same as "identification signal".

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

5. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

6. Claim 1, as best understood by the examiner is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Loraas et al (U.S. 5,957,213)

The applied reference has a common assignee with the instant application.

Based upon the earlier effective U.S. filing date of the reference, it constitutes prior art under 35 U.S.C. 102(e). This rejection under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) might be overcome either by a showing under 37 CFR 1.132 that any invention disclosed but not claimed in the reference was derived from the inventor of this application and is thus not the invention "by another," or by an appropriate showing under 37 CFR 1.131.

Lorans et al discloses that an attachment control device for use with the power machine with the following: an electronic controller (212) coupler to the control computer (214), the electronic controller being configured to receive an indication signal (column 7, line 49) from an attachment and provide the signal to the control computer to control the attachment.

Allowable Subject Matter

- 7. Claims 2-7, 10-22, and 24-33 are allowed.
- 8. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

Neither the prior art of references alone nor in combination discloses or suggest a power machine with the following: a first input device having a first engine start mechanism for starting the engine, and a second input device having a second start

Application/Control Number: 09/495,729

mechanism for starting the engine, a controller system operable connecting to the first and second input device, wherein the controller system disables a predetermined set of operator actuated functions based on a determination as to which of the first and second engine start mechanism is used to start the engine. These structures in combination with other structures as recited in the independent claims 2, 15 and 28 define over the prior art of record.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
